

FutureWorks Common Application Bootcamp

Step 1

Prior to the boot camp we will be sending each applicant a list of background questions which needs to be answered and send it back to us before the boot camp commences.

We will then schedule a meeting via phone, Skype or Googletalk where we will analyse your profile prior to the Bootcamp.

Step 2

Attending the Common Application Bootcamp

Day 1

- Will start with an hour session on:
 - How to approach the essays: which question to choose, what admissions committees are looking for, how to differentiate yourself, how to the structure of the essays, and the tones and styles you can use.
 - Some examples will be shared with the applicants to give them an idea of what universities are looking for in their essays.
- Applicants will start working on ideas and topics for their essays.
- Each applicant will have a personal session with the expert who will brainstorm with the applicant on what they should be writing about in their essay and how to come up with good topics which suit their profile.
- After your individual brainstorming session with the expert, each applicant will start working on their essay.

By the end of day 1 every applicant will have clarity on their chosen essay topics.

Day 2

Applicants will write their essays and get ongoing strategic advice on their essays from our experts as they write their essays. This will help them in completing drafts of their essays by the end of day 2.

Day 3

- Each applicant will have a personal session to review their drafts and get feedback to refine their essays
 - Applicants will get ongoing strategic feedback from our experts on the changes being made
 - Towards the end of the session, each applicant will then work on editing the essays with help from our expert

Day 4

- Our expert will walk applicants through what 'great' resumes and short answer questions look like
- Applicants will work on their resume/activities sheet and short answer questions.
- Our expert will give ongoing feedback to the applicants to ensure that they complete their resume and short answer question by the end of Day 4.
- Applicants will fill out all the 'mandatory' details such as background information required in the common application form

At the end of day 4 the common application form will be complete and ready for us to review and give feedback to refine their common application form if necessary.

Day 5

- Each application will get extensive feedback on their resume/activities sheet, short answer questions and their application forms.
- Applicants will work on refining their resume/activities sheet and short answer questions.
- Our expert will give ongoing feedback to the applicants to ensure that they finalize their resume and short answer question by the end of Day 5.
- The Common Application forms will be ready for submission.
